Description

Begin your New York City adventure at Rockefeller Center, one of the most iconic landmarks in the city. Start with a visit to the Top of the Rock Observation Deck, where you'll ascend to the 70th floor for breathtaking 360-degree views of Manhattan. From this vantage point, see Central Park, the Empire State Building, and the sprawling city skyline. Accompanied by a small group of no more than 20 people, your expert local guide will provide enriching commentary throughout your visit. From identifying landmarks to sharing fascinating anecdotes about Rockefeller Center's storied past, your guide ensures you won't miss a detail. The experience is not just about the views; it's about understanding what you're seeing and the context that makes this building a national treasure. After your time at the Top of the Rock, the tour takes you on a picturesque walk through Midtown Manhattan. Visit Bryant Park, a beautiful urban oasis, and the iconic New York Public Library, where you'll learn about the history and architecture of these beloved landmarks. The journey continues up 5th Avenue, where you'll absorb the history of this prestigious street and pass notable sites like the Diamond District. For those who want to extend their adventure, the tour continues with an optional visit to the Empire State Building. Take the elevator up to the 80th-floor Dare to Dream Exhibit, where the history of the building's rapid construction and completion comes to life. From there, continue to the 86th-floor observatory for awe-inspiring 360-degree views that stretch across Manhattan, its boroughs, and as far as five different states. The Empire State Building provides the perfect finale to your New York City adventure, leaving you with lasting memories of its most iconic sites.

- Walk on a glass walkway 19 floors above Times Square
- Be among the first to experience this iconic landmark
- Choose to take home a commemorative crystal from the Ball itself

Inclusions

Glass elevator ride Access to the 360-degree Viewing Deck Glass walkway 19 floors above Times Square

Exclusions

Access up to the NYE Ball 2025 Crystal from the NYE Ball (available for purchase)

Description

Be among the first in over half a century to step inside One Times Square, home of the world famous New Year's Eve Ball Drop! Built in 1904, this historic landmark was constructed as the headquarters of The New York Times. Upon completion, it was the second tallest building in New York City and the area was renamed Times Square to commemorate its opening. After a complete transformation into a next-generation entertainment complex, the building is welcoming visitors from around the world once again. While more exciting spaces are still to come, the 19th-floor Viewing Deck is now open—offering a rare, elevated perspective of the world's most famous crossroads. Your experience begins with an included glass-elevator ride that glides past the brilliant billboards to a 360-degree wraparound deck. Walk a glass walkway 19 stories above Times Square and take in unforgettable views—north toward Central Park, south to the Village, and across Midtown's iconic skyline from the Hudson to the East River. Up on the Viewing Deck you'll have the exclusive opportunity to take home a piece of recent history: a limited 2025 Commemorative Crystals from the Constellation Ball—the ninth iteration of the NYE Ball. Crafted by Waterford and designed uniquely for the new, circular-crystal shape, these pieces were installed on the Ball at its public unveiling in November 2025, before being swapped out with the 2026 crystals for the ball drop. With a total of 5,280 crystals on the Ball, only a limited number are available and will be offered while supplies last. Choose from three sizes, each with its 2025 "Infinite" theme: 1.5" Infinite Beginning, 3" Infinite Light, and 4" Infinite Joy.

Description

Step into the story of New York Harbor on a guided visit to two of the United States' most meaningful landmarks: the Statue of Liberty and Ellis Island. Starting in Midtown Manhattan, meet your guide and head toward Battery Park to begin a morning of history, skyline views, and unforgettable photo moments. From Battery Park, board the ferry and sail across the harbor with Manhattan as your backdrop. In just a short ride, arrive at Liberty Island, where your guide brings the monument to life—how it was built, how it reached New York, and why it became a global symbol of freedom and hope. Get time to view the statue up close and capture iconic photos before continuing to the Statue of Liberty Museum to explore exhibits, models, and artifacts that reveal the monument's creation and legacy. Next, continue by ferry to Ellis Island. Walk through the National Museum of Immigration and discover the human stories behind America's immigrant past through photographs, documents, and personal belongings. Each gallery offers a powerful glimpse into the journeys of millions who arrived here seeking a new beginning. Your tour returns to Battery Park, where you can choose to continue exploring on your own—stay longer on the islands, visit the museums at your own pace, or enjoy the waterfront atmosphere before heading back into the city.
